

Hi, I'm Kim Haley-George.

I am a passionate midwife and having been working as a Lead Maternity Carer on the Hibiscus Coast for the past 12 years. I decided to become a midwife many years ago because of the awe I felt when I was around pregnant women. Their unique ability to grow, give birth and nurture a tiny human being was, and still is, a miraculous and spiritual event to me. I believe that pregnancy, labour and birth, and breastfeeding are all a normal physiological part of a woman's life, and as such should be guarded as normal yet incredibly special, by midwives.

Hi, I am Barbara Brinsdon.

I've been a Lead Maternity Carer for 14yrs, 7 of these years as an Independent Midwife on the Shore and Hibiscus Coast. I love my work, it is a privilege to be able to care for women and journey with them at this special time in their lives. I'm also a Lactation Consultant, helping my women achieve their goal to fully breastfeed. I've been practising under the name of MotherWise Maternity so do check out the website for more information about me, www.motherwise.co.nz. or/& findyourmidwife.co.nz.

I'm looking forward to working closely with Kim, Mary & Gail.

Hi, I am Mary Gallagher.

I have been a practicing midwife since 1999 and worked in Midwifery education for 6 years. I really enjoy sharing the journey through pregnancy, birth and new parenthood with women & their families. I happily support women and their partners to choose their place of birth, at home, primary birthing center or in hospital. I promote natural treatment options whenever possible, and liaise with Obstetricians and other allied health specialists when indicated.

My passion is supporting breastfeeding through the first few weeks, working through any difficulties to achieve a happy & healthy baby, and easy experience of mothering for Mum.

I have a part time position in a Tongue Tie Clinic, also offer Locum services to give my colleagues a break. I maintain a small LMC practice, and can meet women at our midwifery group clinic at Orewa House.
